

A Free and Full Parliament.

OR

General MONKS restoring of Englands ancient Liberties.

To the Tune of, Fill up the Parliament full.

VVhat maketh the Souldiers
To stand to their armes?
Tis for what they profess,
To keep us from harms,
The Grubbs & Scoldes
Come now in by Storms,
To fill up the Parliament Full, full, full,
To fill up the Parliament Full.

You know that the City Gates,
Late were thrown down,
The Walls too were order'd
By Parliament Frown:
But General Monck, as pleas'd
Souldier and Town,
And fill'd, &c.

A dispute there was had,
By the Members Secluded,
Brave Monck was the Empire,
And found them Declud'd,

But Englands great toy,
Is now wholly Concluded,
For He's fill'd, &c.

Sir Arthur the Valiant,
Shall make his Speech large,
Lest the Members Exclud'd,
Lay Treason to's Charge,
He'd better t have dealt,
With his Newcastle Barge,
Than to see the Old Parliament full, full, full
Than to see the Old Parliament full.

The Aldermen Grave,
And the Commons o'th City,
Imprison'd were,
The more is the pity,
But General Monck said,
That I will acquit ye,
For the Parliament now shall be full, full, full
For the Parliament now shall be full.

A Free and Full Parliament.
OR
General MONKS restoring of Englands an-tient Liberties.

To the Tune of, Fill up the Parliament full.

VVhat maketh the Souldiers
To stand to their armes?
Tis for what they profess,
To keep us from harms,
The Grubbs & Scoldes
Come now in by Storms,
To fill up the Parliament Full, full, full,
To fill up the Parliament Full.

You know that the City Gates,
Late were thown down,
The Walls too were order'd
By Parliament Frown:
But General Monck, as pleas'd
Souldier and Town,
And fill'd, &c.

A dispute there was had,
By the Members Secluded,
Brave Monck was the Empire,
And found them Declud'd,

But Englands great toy,
Is now wholly Concluded,
For He's fill'd, &c.

Sir Arthur the Valiant,
Shall make his Speech large,
Lest the Members Exclud'd,
Lay Treason to's Charge,
He'd better t have dealt,
With his Newcastle Barge,
Than to see the Old Parliament full, full, full
Than to see the Old Parliament full.

The Aldermen Grave,
And the Commons o'th City,
Imprison'd were,
The more is the pity,
But General Monck said,
That I will acquit ye,
For the Parliament now shall be full, full, full
For the Parliament now shall be full.

The Parliament now will come into their Chiers
For secl. ded Prin
(that once lost his ears)
Print in with his Kayser for Commons and Peers,
To fill up the Parliament full, ful, ful,
To fill up the Parliament full.

Who's often declazing,
Has furnisht the Nation
With Parliament Arguments,
Of the old Fashion,
And wou'd hab: be b
Commons, and Lords in this nation,
To fill up, &c.

Our bzabe General Monck,
The Lounds are to thank,
The Honest Lord Fairfax,
Has plid (to) his Bank,
So thanks to be g. bon,
To the Kump noz the Shank,
To fill up, &c.

Had the City ne'r moved,
Noz the Pventices fre be,
They o' lost their Old Charter,
But Monck had a lobe,

To challenge the Grand Ones,
Which Witches old move,
And so fill'd up the, &c.

But now our bzabe Members,
Have taken their seats,
The very first day,
They did honorable seats,
For the good of this Nation,
Which will pzabe no cheats,
To fill up, &c.

The Citizens in Tower,
At Liberty they have set,
A more gallanter deed,
Was never known yet,
When the setting them free,
And th' bzabe Pventices to get,
For the Parliament now shall be ful, ful, ful
For the Parliament now shall be full.

Now to God let us pray,
That all may be ended,
That freedom may flourish,
And all strife may be ended,
For General Monck,
With us bogely b: friended,
In filling the Parliament full, full, full,
In filling the Parliament full.

LONDON, Printed for W. Gilbertson in Gilt-spur-street. FINIS.